UDINE – travel & accomodation

1. TRAVEL

By air:

Udine is 40 km from Trieste Airport FVG which has daily flights to Munich (Lufthansa), London Stansted (Ryanair), Milan and Rome (Alitalia), and less regular flights to Birmingham, Brussels, Valencia and other locations in Europe.

Website: <http://www.aeroporto.fvg.it/en/home/index.htm>

From Trieste airport to Udine there is a public bus run by APT Gorizia (Linea 51, 40 min, €5,00 : website: http://www.aeroporto.fvg.it/en/come\_arrivare/trasporto\_pubblico.htm

Another option can be to arrive in Venice Airport "Aeroporto Marco Polo" (website <http://www.veniceairport.it>) and then continue from there by bus ATVO (website www.atvo.it/it-venice-airport.html) to Venezia Mestre train station and finally by train from Venezia Mestre train station to Udine train station.

By train

Trenitalia (website: <http://www.trenitalia.com/> ) runs daily inter-regional (faster) and regional-local (slower) trains to and from Venice and Trieste.

Inter-regional trains from Venice (Venezia Santa Lucia or Venezia Mestre train station) take just over an hour and a half, while a trip with local / regional trains that make all stops takes two-hours. Trieste is just over an hour away.

Trains to Venice and Trieste run almost every hour.

There is also one daily train to and from Milan and another one to and from Rome (otherwise, change in Venezia Mestre). On the international route, there is a daily night train to Vienna (Austria) and, during the day, a daily bus to Villach and Klagenfurt run by Austrian Railways.

Udine train station is located at a walking distance (10 minutes) from the city centre.

By car

Udine is on the Highway-Autostrada A4 (Venezia-Tarvisio), an hour from Trieste, an hour and a half from Venice and from Villach (Austria) and two hours from Ljubljana (Slovenia).

By bus & local public transport

Local public buses within the city and from Udine train station to the city centre are operated by SAF (www.saf.ud.it). The cost of a single ticket (valid for 60-minutes) is € 1,30.

From Udine bus station, which is located opposite to train station, services operated by SAF also run buses also to and from Trieste (€ 8,75, 1¼ hours, hourly), the historical cities of Aquileia (€4, one to 1¼ hours, up to eight daily) and Grado (€ 5, 1¼ hours, 12 daily).
